

Participation and Subsidiarity

We all have a right to participate in the decisions that affect us

Who decides?
Participation and Subsidiarity

We need clean water

When people don't have the resources or skills to meet their own needs, then other parts of society such as the Government need to help. They need to listen to what the community needs, not decide for them

What does participation look like in your life?

Joining in

Helping others and speaking up when things are unfair

Packing my own lunchbox

How can we help?

How we help is important. This brings us to subsidiarity

Subsidiarity

We all have a right and responsibility to participate in our own life and that of our community. When you support Caritas Australia, you are helping communities be architects of their own development!
